

¡Ho la Mexico Cuatro! - November 6th-9th, 2003

For the fourth consecutive year we will be heading south of the border to camp on the beach in San Felipe, B.C. This annual event is a popular change of pace from our typical camping trips. Baja is different, exciting, laid back - an experience not quickly forgotten. This year, perhaps feeling left out, many of our significant others are going along. 2003 in Baja is for esposas, too! And that's not the only change this year; we'll be meeting Thursday night in Palm Springs for a fiesta send-off dinner. From there on Friday we have a clean shot, sans major cities and traffic to the border. Can't get to Palm Springs Thursday night? Meet us Friday morning in Palm Springs for the ride south; we won't leave before the sun rises.

As previously, Friday night is spent at Pete's Campo enjoying the traditional Mexican "spaghetti dinner" accompanied by songs from the 60's and dancing.

(Details on the meeting location in Palm Springs for Thursday night and Friday morning will be posted prior to the event. Please keep checking back.)

Saturday we plan to rent dune buggies (picture below) and explore the desert. In the evening, we'll dine in San Felipe and enjoy the annual Camarón (shrimp) Festival. Sunday after breakfast we'll head home, leaving with our Baja memories.

We aren't limited to the number of campers, it's a big beach, and we don't have to prepay, so our camping reservation rules don't apply to this trip, you pay when you get there. Before we cross the border we'll purchase Mexican moto insurance and everyone in Baja readily accepts dollars (about 10 pesos per dollar).

If you plan on attending, drop Jon Taylor an email by clicking HERE, just so we have an idea of who is going to be making the trip. Should be a great time this year, hope you can all join us.
